1989

In 1989, my father and mother, Jørgen and Ellen, my older brother, Mads, and I took a step in a new direction: we wanted to start a café. It was quite a leap.

When the Berlin Wall fell in November 1989, the name Europe took on a whole new meaning. As Willy Brandt said, "Now what belongs together grows together." East and West were reunited.

Now Europe also meant a free Europe - a Europe that was bigger than the Common Market. Borders were opened. And our café was named after the Europe that stretches - as seen on the good map on the end wall - from Sicily to the North Cape and from Gibraltar to the Urals. We wanted to bring the best of European café cultures: the traditional French café, Viennese and Budapest cake shops, Italian coffee menus and food inspiration from Spanish tapas, Greek yogurt dishes, herring, porridge and open-faced sandwiches - yes, from the entire diverse European cuisine.

In the summer of 1993, the Ministry of Environment moved into Højbro Plads 4. They became our first canteen customer, already with 100% organic ingredients. Europa Canteens operate canteen houses for private and public clients.

Our Coffee Roastery is located in Gellerup, Aarhus. Europa is self-sufficient in sustainable coffee and tea for our cafés and canteens. In Jægergårdsgade, Aarhus, Europa's first coffee and tea shop is located.

At Café Europa 1989 we only use high quality ingredients and we carefully choose suppliers who have strong opinions about the craft and which products they use.

We constantly work on using more organic products and it is also an important priority for us to use Danish products in our kitchen. To get the quality and taste we want, we develop our own recipes and we take big pride in our homemade dishes, bread and cakes. Our menu is inspired by the European café culture and the diverse European cuisine.
